ATTENDANCE

This is an in-person, on-ground class; it is not an online, remote, or hybrid class. Regular attendance is expected. Attendance affects a student's final course grade in the following ways:

0 – 2 absences	:	Three bonus points will be added to the student's overall course grade
3 – 5 absences	:	No change in the student's overall course grade
6 – 8 absences	:	The highest grade a student can earn in the course overall is a B+
9 – 11 absences	:	The highest grade a student can earn in the course overall is a B
12 – 14 absences	:	The highest grade a student can earn in the course overall is a B–
15 – 17 absences	:	The highest grade a student can earn in the course overall is a C+
18 or more absences	:	The highest grade a student can earn in the course overall is a C

There is no distinction between excused and unexcused absences. Three late arrivals or early exits count as a full absence. Extenuating circumstances will need to be authorized through the DAC (discussed below).

Cell phones and other personal electronic devices such as laptop computers must be turned off during class. Unauthorized use of personal electronic equipment during class counts as a full unexcused absence.

To be clear: The highest grades listed above are not deductions to a student's overall grade but rather impose limits on the highest possible letter grade that can be earned. For example, if a student's raw overall course grade is a 94% and they have missed 10 days of class, that student will be given a B in the course. If a student's raw overall course grade is an 84% and they have missed 10 days of class, that student will also be given a B in the course. If a student's raw overall course grade is a 74% and they have missed 10 days of class, that student will be given a C in the course.

REASONABLE ACCOMMODATIONS for DISABILITIES

Middle Tennessee State University is committed to campus access in accordance with Title II of the Americans with Disabilities Act and Section 504 of the Vocational Rehabilitation Act of 1973. Any student interested in reasonable accommodations can consult the Disability & Access Center \(DAC\) website and/or contact the DAC for assistance at 615-898-2783 or dacemail@mtsu.edu.

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY

Please review the information on Academic Integrity and Misconduct. Collaboration is forbidden on tests and homework, unless clearly specified otherwise. We expect students to present original work for all academic assignments turned in for credit and appropriately credit all sources used.

Academic misconduct includes, but is not limited to:

1. Plagiarism: The adoption or reproduction of ideas, words, statements, images, or works of another person as one's own without proper attribution. This includes self-plagiarism, which occurs when an author submits material or research from a previous academic exercise to satisfy the requirements of another exercise and uses it without proper citation of its reuse.
2. Cheating: Using or attempting to use unauthorized materials, information, or study aids in any academic exercise. This includes unapproved collaboration, which occurs when a student works with others on an academic exercise without the express permission of the professor. It also includes purchasing assignments or paying another person to complete a course for you.
3. Fabrication: Unauthorized falsification or invention of any information or citation in an academic exercise.

Going online and using information without proper citation, copying parts of other students' work, creating information to establish credibility, or using someone else's thoughts or ideas without appropriate acknowledgment is academic misconduct. If you have a question about an assignment, please ask for clarification. All cases of academic misconduct will be reported to the Director of Academic Integrity and may result in failure on the test/assignment or for the course. When students participate in behavior that is considered to be academic misconduct, the value of their education and that of their classmates is reduced, and their academic careers are jeopardized.

INCOMPLETE GRADES

Incomplete grades are given rarely and only in extenuating circumstances. Page 56 of the MTSU Undergraduate Catalog states: "The grade I indicates that the student has not completed all course requirements because of illness or other uncontrollable circumstances, especially those which occur toward the end of the term. Mere failure to make up work or turn in required work on time does not provide the basis for the grade of I unless extenuating circumstances noted above are present for reasons acceptable to the instructor."

PARTICIPATION
